

Dear Dedicated Intern:

This is only the most recent but one of the most blatant examples of the need for a non-partisan format for election campaigning, including spending caps, guaranteed media access to qualified candidates. Partisan "stealth" campaigning, like we see here with Sinclair Broadcasting, or for that matter with Michael Moore's "documentary" Fahrenheit 9/11, are just some of the results of our woeful lack of PROCESS in the election process.